

Frédéric Valla – Short Bio

Dr. Frédéric V. Valla is a pediatrician and nutritionist with qualification in pediatric intensive care medicine. He currently serves as Senior Consultant and Lead Manager of the Institutional Nutrition Support Team at Lyon University Hospital, France. He is an associate professor at Edge Hill University, UK.

He is an active member of several scientific societies, including the European Society of Pediatric and Neonatal Intensive Care (ESPNIC) since 2011, and the European Society for Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism (ESPEN). He is also a member of the French Nutrition Society (SFNCM) and serves as its scientific committee chair. He has extensive experience in clinical research as both principal investigator and co-investigator.