

Frank Jochum – Short Bio

Prof. Dr. med. habil. Frank Jochum is a pediatrician and specialist in neonatology, pediatric intensive medicine, and pediatric clinical nutrition. He serves as Head of the Department of Pediatrics at the Evangelisches Waldkrankenhaus Spandau in Berlin.

Following clinical and research appointments at Heinrich-Heine University Düsseldorf, Charité Berlin, and Ernst-Moritz-Arndt University Greifswald, he habilitated in pediatric clinical nutrition and received the venia legendi for pediatric medicine in 2007. He has held numerous leadership roles within national pediatric and nutrition societies, including President (2018–2020) and First Vice President of the German Society of Nutritional Medicine (DGEM). He is member of the nutrition commission of the German society of pediatrics (DGKJ), and has also contributed to the development of nutrition guidelines of the European Society for Paediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition (ESPGHAN).

